Congratulations! You are now the proud owner of a Cockapoo puppy. We hope the change for you and the puppy goes well.

No representation has been made as to size, color quality, or breeding potential of this dog when it reaches maturity. All dogs are sold as pets only.

By executing this agreement, the Buyer acknowledges receipt of dog, and that it is sound and in good health, as far as the eye can see. The Buyer is asked to take the dog at his or her own expense, to a licensed veterinarian of his or her choice for a health check within 5 days of purchase date. If this dog is not sound and in good health (worms and parasites excepted), the Buyer has the right to obtain a certificate from the veterinarian to that effect, and return the dog and said certificate to the Seller for a full refund within one week of purchase date.

The Seller further guarantees the health of this dog in so far as communicable diseases are concerned (examples: parvo virus or distemper) for a period of 5 days following execution of this agreement by both parties.

Within one week, should this dog become ill, it is to be immediately returned to the Seller for treatment at the Seller's discretion and expense. Failure to immediately notify the Seller or to take the dog elsewhere for treatment without the Seller's permission constitutes a breach of contract and relieves the Seller of all responsibility if dog should die and no refunds or replacements will be owed to the Buyer by the Seller.

The dog is sold with a one year warranty that it is free of genetic life-threatening physical defects which would interfere with its ability to be a good pet to the new owner or cause great expense. Examples would be problems with the heart, lungs, and/or liver. The dog is sold as a companion and is not guaranteed for breeding purposes.

The puppy may be returned for a full refund if defective. Or, in the case where the owner wants to keep the defective puppy, a mutually acceptable adjustment will be made in the purchase price. In fairness to all parties concerned, no pet is returnable for any other reasons whatsoever. All pet sales are final. The Seller shall not be held responsible for any veterinarian bills whatsoever once the pet has left the Seller's premises.

If the buyer is unable to maintain ownership of the animal, through the duration of the animal's lifetime, it may be returned to the breeder for evaluation and re-homing.
